The Preamble to the Lord Cadogan's Patent, for creating him an Earl.

QUoniam elapso jam circiter Biennio, perquam dilectum Nobis Gulielmum Dominum Cadogan, cum propter singulam summam erga Nos Studium, Operamque in omnis Negotiorum genere Domi Militiæque insigniter navatam; tum præcipuè propter Utilitates quas in Bello Flandrico primùm, deinde & in nuperâ illâ Rebellione Scoticâ, Nobis maximas & mirabiles præbuit, (quemadmodum in Literas cum Nostratum Patentium Proœmio tum fusiùs explicatum est;) in Procerum hujus Regni Ordinem cooptatum, Titulo Baronis de Reading cohonestare visum fuit. Et quoniam, quam nobis postea Operam dedit, tum in arduis Regni Negotiis procurandis, quum Legati ad Fœderatos Belgii Ordines Extraordinarii Munere fungeretur; tum in Re Militari, quum Peditatûs Nostri Præfectus esset constitutus, Copiisque nostris omnibus sub Potentissimo & Invictissimo Johanne Duce de Marlborough proximè præesset; Quamque porrò Fidem, etiam difficillimis Temporibus erga Nefmetiosos & rationes Nostras immotam, inconcussam, studiosissimam, Diligentiamque Commodis nostris semper inserviens plane indefatigabilem adhibuit; ed fe Nobis cadus & magis probavit, & usque optimè mereatur. Et quoniam in Animo habemus, Illum quamprimùm in Hollandiam cum in Ferum Legatum mittere, ut Fœdere inter Nos, & Imperatorem Germaniæ, Regemq; Francorum hinc, Fœderati Belgii Ordines confocientur. Quod quidem & Nostris Regnis, & Europæ universæ in Felicitatem maximam cedat. Et quoniam, quo Legatio Nostra amplior & spectabilior agatur, in Mandatis ei dedimus, ut Comitatu magnifico stipatus Hagam Comitis palam ac publicè, ut Legatus Noster Extraordinarius, ingrediatur; Fœderatisque Belgii Ordines de Nostrâ erga eorum Respublicam Amicitiâ eosdem certos faciat. Hisce Nos de Causis dictum Gulielmum Dominum Cadogan novis Honoribus augere, Eumque Comitem de Cadogan in Agro Denbighensi, Vice-Comitem de Caversham in Agro Oxoniensi, & Baronem de Oakley in Agro Buckinghamiensi creare statuimus. Scratis igitur, &c.

WHereas We thought fit about two Years since, to give the Rank and Dignity of a Peer of this Realm to William Lord Cadogan by the Title of Baron of Reading, in Consideration of his great and eminent Services, and particularly of those perform'd by him during the War in Flanders, and, after that, in the late Rebellion in Scotland; as is more fully set forth in the Preamble of Our Patent for creating him Baron of Reading. And We having great Reason to be extremely satisfied with the Services he has since done in the several Important Negociations transacted by him as Our Ambassadour Extraordinary in Holland; and with his Conduct and Behaviour in his Station of General of Our Foot, and Commander of Our Forces, next under his Grace the always Victorious Duke of Marlborough. And he having continued to give Us upon all Occasions, and in the most difficult Times, singular and undoubted Proofs of his Zeal for Our Service, and of his steady, firm, inviolable and unalterable Affection to Our Person and Government. And We having further an Intention to send him speedily into Holland, to negotiate with the States General their entring into the Alliance between Ourselves, the Emperour, and the French King; which is an Affair of the utmost Consequence to the Good of these Our Kingdoms in Particular, and of all Europe in General. And We having likewise given him Orders to make a Publick Entry in Quality of Our Ambassadour Extraordinary at the Hague, and to assure the States, in the most solemn Manner, of Our constant Friendship and Affection to their Commonwealth. For these Reasons, and to give a greater Lustre and Dignity to the Commission We now imploy him in, We have thought fit to confer upon him a new Degree of Honour, and to create him Earl of Cadogan in Denbighshire, Viscount of Caversham in Oxfordshire, and Baron of Oakley in Buckinghamshire. Know ye therefore, &c.

Hamburgh, April 15.

'WE hear from Vienna, that the Czar's Resident M. Wesselowitz, in a Conference with the Vice Chancellour of the Empire, declar'd the Renunciation of the Czarowitz to the Succession and communicated, at the same time, the Czar's Manifesto upon that Subject, and has since solicited for several Days together, to have an Audience to make that Declaration to his Imperial Majesty himself, but could not obtain it; that Court appearing no ways satisfied with this Procedure of the Czar, seeing that Renunciation extends to the young Prince, Son to the Czarowitz and Niece of the deceas'd Sister of the reigning Empress. The Vice Chancellour having asked some Questions of the Resident about it, was answered in short, that the Czar was an absolute Monarch, and could dispose of that Affair (as his Pleasure. We are inform'd, that the Czarowitz Alexis shut up for the rest of his Days in a Monastery some Leagues from the City of Moscow.

Hague, April 12. The Evacuation of the Citadel of Liege was made on the 4th Instant; and the Duke of Calcoen took Possession of it, the Dutch Garrison marching out, and the Foot of that Prince's Troops took Possession, after the Keys were delivered up by the Dutch Governour. 'Tis said his Electoral Highness designs to give the Command of that Citadel to the Count de Berlo, but the Chapter desire the Baron de Bot Governour of it.

London, April 16.

We hear that all possible Measures are taking here making the propos'd Accomodation be the Courts of Vienna and Madrid have it in Effect. The Regent of France has declar'd his Intentions to join in it; and 'tis not doubted the States General will do the same. No Advice has as yet been received from Madrid since the Duke Regent sent away the Courier the 19th Instant, [illegible] Emperour's Concessions. In the mean time, Mr. Stanhope, his Majesty's Plenipotentiary at Madrid, is gone from hence with Instructions to M. Stanhope, his Majesty's Plenipotentiary at Madrid, in order to accelerate the Conclusion of the Treaty.

London, April 16.

Yesterday [illegible] was 115 1 Bank 115 1 Sth, to 115 3 8ths. Bank the 3 per Cent. 150 to 150 1 [illegible]

I Cannot deny to Mr. Pillmeare the following Piece of Justice, which He now requests of Me; least the new gross Imputation of Forgery, which (instead of defending one single past Calumny,) Dr. Snape hath most worthily laid upon Him, should make any Impression, before he can publish his whole Answer. And I the rather do this, because I know no other Way so effectual, since the Dr. hath declared against Books too long to be answered.

Whereas the Reverend Dr. Snape, in his Letter to Me, before Mr. Mills's last Book, (p. 34.) speaking of Mr. Rouire's first Certificate, hath, by the help of Cunning Conjectures, thought fit to leave a heavy Charge upon Mr. Pillmeare, of bearing a Part in a Forgery, and in Cooking up an extraordinary Piece of Evidence; nay, hath, by a peculiar Sagacity, endeavour'd to fix the very time when this might be done, viz. in a certain Interval of Four Days, when Mr. Rouire was missing from Croydon; and since Dr. Snape's Vindication was published, in which he Cited Him: I do therefore, think my self obliged to declare solemnly, that I My self saw with my own Eyes that Certificate of Mr. R. (the same Paper which I have now in my Custody) not only before the Publication of the Doctor's Book, but before the Famous Conference at Croydon. And I do further declare, that during the Interval of the Doctor's imagin'd Four Days, and several Days after it, We neither saw nor heard of Mr. Rouire.

As to the other Forgery, relating to a Clause in a Certificate, which the Dr. charges likewise upon Mr. Pillmeare: I can now only undertake to the World, (because I know it) that He will be proved as clear from Guilt in this, as He hath been in the Former; and assure the Dr. that, in the little Account he pretends to give of that Matter, (by trusting again to others, and to his own Sagacity in guessing) He hath not published, either in the Facts He reports, or the Conjectures He makes, or the Interpretations He puts upon Mr. Pillmeare's Words, (I think I speak exactly) any one single Particular, but what happens to be Not True.

All Men of Honour, of all Denominations, and all Parties, must, I believe, equally disapprove the Proceedings of one, who, after he is convicted in every Particular of his hear-say Scandal, goes on to Conjectural Scandal; and, by the help of a few unhappy Guesses, leaves the heaviest Imputation upon his Neighbour, without any Expression of Mitigation, or of the least Doubt on his own Part. I pray God not to lay to his Charge the Part I have in this whole Scene: the like to which few Ages have been Witnesses to. And lead him to exact more to present Repentance, than to the Future Discoveries of Time; which, God knows, can make none, to the Purposes of his Resentment against Me.

BANG. BANGOR.
